Nichole Rudy

A photograph of a small, rectangular piece of white paper with horizontal blue lines. The paper has irregular, torn edges. It is lying on a dark brown, textured surface that appears to be soil or dirt. The text "I am a writer" is written in a cursive, handwritten style in dark ink or pencil. The paper is slightly tilted to the right.

Comment Cards

Please use the comment cards to give us feedback on the program. When you are finished, hand them to a coordinator.

If you would like, you may use the back of the card, instead, to write a note to a writer or musician. Please make sure to include the first and last name of the student, so I can deliver them tomorrow.

Thank you . . .

These brave students for sharing their writing and musical talents

Penn Manor Education Foundation for helping to fund this event

Student Coordinators for helping to organize

Manor teachers for their help and support

Kara Newhouse for being willing to share her time and expertise with us.

Dr. Edwards and Dr. Keddie for allowing my madness and many emails.

Parents, family members, and friends for coming to support the Spotlight Writers' Cafe.
